BPO & IT Staffing?

We're your Remote Staffing experts for any small, medium & large business landscape.

ABOUT —

Who we are

RemotoDojo was founded and created as an omnichannel solution for customer experience and back-office support. We initially started working with fast-growth technology companies in the US and Australia and then expanded our client list to include nationalities around the globe. Our omni service is vital to the core operations and functionality of consumer-centric small, medium, and large enterprises that are in the field of retail, service, e-commerce, and technologies. RemotoDojo now works behind the scenes with disciplined and consistent support, powering over 100 different brands.

120+
Clients

Our company is young but we have already serviced numerous clients and helped their businesses achieve all sorts of project milestones, big and small!

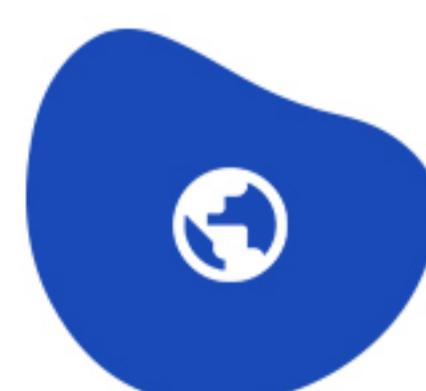

290+
Projects

Our projects span a wide range of work that involve many cutting edge technologies. These include the newest web development stacks as well as mobile app design and production.

100+
Employees

The RemotoDojo is still in the midst of rapid growth as we strive to hire top tech talent while also bringing in young, ambitious newcomers and training them to become tomorrow's I.T. leaders!

11
Countries

Our services are specifically structured so we can cater to any client regardless of location. We've produced work for SMEs that can be found in many parts of the world from Australia to the U.S.A!

IT PRICING

Cost breakdown

If your company has a website that takes longer to load than a commercial cargo vessel, your customers are probably going to click off it and head to your rivals. This is especially true if you're running a Website as a Service (WaaS) model. Once again though, there are huge costs involved in putting together the team of designer, front-end and back-end developers, which will directly affect how long it takes. Let's see how much you could end up paying!
